Program Summary:

State tax law provides that everything is assessable unless it is expressly exempted by statute; however, it isn't always easy to determine the exempt status of property. This course is designed to give an overview of Property Tax Exemptions in Michigan. Exemptions that are applied for and approved by the STC and/or the Local Assessor/unit of government will briefly be referenced. However, the course is primarily designed to cover the property tax exemptions found in statute that do not have a standard statutory application and approval process.
