COURSE DESCRIPTION

Whether the appeal is for Michigan Tax Tribunal or March Board of Review, Assessors are often called upon to review and analyze narrative appraisals as part of their daily tasks. Each market segment brings its' own market participants, demands, characteristics that are required in determining market value. Although the general concepts may not change, the application may have differing emphasis utilized.

This course will assist Assessors with what key areas to look for within the appraisal report, what requirements need to be met, and what questions to ask when analyzing the quality of the appraisal document. The advanced concepts in this course require an understanding of Highest and Best Use and the three Approaches to Value. It is ideally suited for those students with an MAAO or MMAO designation.
